

Breast & Cervical Cancer Screening

Providing breast and cervical cancer screening and diagnostic services to eligible Washington residents

Learn about options for getting screened!

The Breast, Cervical and Colon Health Program provides free cancer screening for eligible WA residents.

This program serves people who:

- Don't have health insurance or have a high deductible.
- Have low income.
- Meet the age guidelines.

Services include:

- Breast cancer screenings (breast exams and mammograms).
- Cervical cancer screenings (Pap and HPV tests).
- Follow-up tests as needed, based on screening results.
- Assistance with navigating resources for treatment if needed.

Call the Breast, Cervical and Colon Health Program

Call 1-800-756-5437 to find out more about your local program and if you qualify.

Call the WA Dept. of Health to find out more about the Washington State Program at 1-888-438-2247.

Cancer screening saves lives!

- As you get older, you are at higher risk of getting cancer.
- If cancer is found early, it is often easier to treat and treatment is more successful.
- The best way to find cancer early is through routine screening. There are often no warning signs.

If you aren't eligible for Washington Apple Health and don't have insurance, you may still be eligible for free cancer screenings.
